Keep Kids Safe: #parentscheckthecheck!

Parents or carers who engage the services of a private tutor or coach have an important role to play in helping to keep their children safe.

From 1st April 2016 adults who provide private tuition or coaching services to children will need to obtain a new Working With Children Check.

The Certificate for Self Employed People will no longer be valid after their expiry date and the certificate holders will need to apply for a new Working With Children Check.

Parents or carers should ask their child’s tutor or coach for their name, date of birth and their Working With Children Check number.

They must then go online and verify the tutor or coach is not barred from working with children in NSW.

Verifying that a tutor or coach can work with children is quick and easy – just follow the simple steps at www.kidsguardian.nsw.gov.au/parentscheckthecheck

If you suspect that an adult is providing services to children without a Working With Children Check you can go online to make a confidential report or phone (02) 9286 7219.

Help to keep kids safe by sharing #parentscheckthecheck with your family and friends through your own social media networks.

Tutors and coaches can help to keep kids safe

From 1st April 2016 all tutors and coaches who provide services to children are being phased-in to the new Working With Children Check online system in NSW.

Tutors and coaches working in schools and other organisations, including those previously checked by employers under the old system, will need to apply for a new Working With Children Check.

The Certificate for Self Employed People from the old Working With Children Check will no longer be valid after their expiry date.

Tutors and coaches providing private services to children will also need to apply for a new Working With Children Check.

The tutor or coach should provide their name, date of birth and WWCC number to parents/carers for online verification.

Applications for a Working With Children Check can be made at www.kidsguardian.nsw.gov.au/check

The Office of the Children’s Guardian has produced a poster for private tutors and coaches to display their name, date of birth and WWCC number.

The downloadable poster and parent verification process are at www.kidsguardian.nsw.gov.au/parentscheckthecheck

A WWCC clearance means the tutor or coach can work with children in NSW.

A WWCC bar or interim bar means the tutor or coach cannot work or volunteer with children in NSW.

If you suspect that an adult is providing services to children without a Working With Children Check you can make a confidential report online or phone (02) 9286 7219.
